New Sustainable Collection

360

We Are Doing a 360.

At Healing Hands, we believe in doing things that matter—and that's why we're on a mission to make the world a little better every day. We're proud of our new 360 collection made with recycled polyester fabric, which is made from water bottles that are shredded, melted, and extruded into yarn. The result is an easy care fabric that's strong, wrinkle and fade resistant – and sustainable! The fabric is knit and woven – creating mixed-media garments that are anything but boring. When you wear our clothes, you'll be wearing something that was once part of a plastic bottle but now has been reborn into your new favorite piece of clothing.

This collection is our premium athleisure line, now made from an innovative polyester-spandex stretch fabric blend that's not only light but breathable. Each of these scrubs features a diamond weave pattern that wicks away moisture and is guaranteed to outlast any opponent. We make sustainable style easy!

Comfort. Style. Sustainability.

Consumers want to know that the brands they support are socially responsible. They want to buy goods from companies that support causes that they believe in, and care about.

Our 360 Collection recycled polyester fabric is made from millions of recycled plastic bottles, which are mixed with new polyester to make the fabric. It's a sustainable way of making textiles and keeps plastic out of landfills and from clogging our oceans.

Healing Hands' goal is to lessen the impact on the environment by reducing carbon emissions and waste. We must look at every aspect of our business, including how and where we make our products. That's why we don't just look forward; we look in every direction to ensure we have a 360 view of everything we do and why we do it.
